

Executive Presentation Coaching™

overview

Our Executive Presentation Coaching™ is a one-on-one forum that prepares executives to engage their audience using professional speaking techniques. Focusing on structure, speaking skills & executive presence, this 1 day program includes 3 digital recordings of the participant's practice sessions.

Through a combination of instruction, demonstration & practice, executive level participants finesse their presentation skills. Instructor coaching after each presentation leads to greater mastery of delivery skills. By the end of the session, executives exude control & confidence and can masterfully deliver dynamic presentations to all levels of audience members in the organization.
